Mother of the Needy

India, roughly as extensive as Western Europe has 28 states, 22 official languages and it's population covers 83% Hindus, 12% Muslims, 2.3% Christians and Sikhs, Jains, Parsis, Buddhists, Jews in smaller percentages. But one factor that binds the various religions of India to Christians is the figure of the Blessed Virgin Mary. Thousands of devotees from these religions visit Marian Shrines to invoke her blessings especially the Basilica of our Lady of Health in a little town of Vailankanni, in the state of Tamil Nadu, a night's journey from the southernmost tip of India on it's east coast.

Our Lady of Good Health

The apparition at Vailankanni occurred in the 16th Century when a physically challenged son of a poor widow sees a vision of a Lady of peerless grace with the Divine Child in her arms asking for a cup of yogurt which he sat everyday to sell under a tree. The Lady directs the boy to ask for a chapel to be built on the spot of her apparition. The boy runs buoyantly completely healed. A thatched chapel is built and Our Lady is called "Our Lady of Good Health". Then in the 17th century, a Portuguese merchant vessel, is caught in a storm in the Bay of Bengal. The sailors pray to Mary, making a vow to build her a chapel wherever they would reach safely. Their ship reaches the shore of Vailankanni where they transform the thatched chapel into a beautiful one. Today there stands a beautiful Basilica and Vailankanni is fondly called the "Lourdes of the East".

The Basilica

What inspired me in my first visit to Lourdes in France (which marks the 150th year of the apparitions next year) was the sight of the sick and helpless given a pride of place, and my mind raced back to Vailankanni which I visited ten years ago to invoke Mary's blessing on a sick relative. This year from the Dublin Diocese, close to 700 young people offered themselves to care for the sick at Lourdes. The sick, the needy, the young, the old, people of whatever faith or no faith, Mother Mary draws them all. It's as if those who are easily forgotten by us are uppermost in her mind.

CROSSCARE

The Annual Collection was taken up last weekend. However a number of people may wish to send in a donation who were unable to do so last week. Donations should be placed in an envelope marked "Crosscare" or given to one of the priests or to Angela or Carmel.

SICK PILGRIMS

The Director of the Dublin Pilgrimage to Lourdes, Fr John Gilligan has written to thank our Parishioners for their contribution of €817 to help send over 200 pilgrims to Lourdes this year. Two of the sick pilgrims this year were from St Agnes' Parish

SFO Area Meeting

The SFO meeting takes place on Mon 24th September in the Columban Sisters Oratory (back of Fr Kitt court) from 3.00 to 4.00 pm. Lectio Divina—Divine Office and prayers of intercession before the Blessed Sacrament

All Are Welcome

MANY THANKS

Dublin has expanded greatly in the past fifty years. Looking at the list of new parishes around the perimeter of the city, very few of them celebrate the Forty Hours Adoration. Sadly many of them open their Churches only for Mass on weekdays and Sundays—a sign of the times where Churches have to be protected in this way.

Last weekend we celebrated the 40 Hours in St Agnes and it was good to see so many Parishioners and visitors visiting the Church especially on Monday. Even on Sunday afternoon during the All Ireland there were 10—15 people present.

May I thank all who attended and showed their devotion to the Blessed Sacrament. Our gratitude to all who organised the occasion and promoted the Forty Hours, especially our Liturgy Group. Thanks also to those who donated flowers and candles, to Angela, Carmel and our Parish Choir.

May we remind our Parishioners that adoration continues in the Oratory which is at the top right hand corner of the Church. The hours are: Monday and Tuesday from 11am to 7pm and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday from 11am to 4pm. If you would have an hour to spare each week give your name to one of the committee or leave your name in the Sacristy and the time that would suit you.

Shared Mass

As already announced from the beginning of October, the 7pm Vigil Mass on Saturday evenings will be a shared Mass. All the names called out at that Mass will be included in that Celebration of Mass. You book as usual through the Parish Office. This is to satisfy the demand for weekend Mass intentions. The remaining Masses may be booked in the usual way.
