Thought for Holy Week

"Let us fix our eyes on the blood of Christ, poured out for our salvation: it has brought to the whole world the grace of repentance" - St Clement of Rome

DECISION TIME

Palm Sunday or Passion Sunday marks the beginning of Holy Week, the last week of Lent. We know the story, the cruelty, the suffering and the sorrow. In the words of Simone Weil, pain and suffering are a kind of false currency passed from hand to hand until they reach someone who receives them but does not pass them on.

There is an ancient Russian legend that puts it clearly

Once upon a time two thieves repented. They had been partners in thriving and in injustice, and they now sought to make restitution and do penance together. They were both given the same penance by the monk. Each was to carry a cross across the desert and arrive at the city to celebrate his conversion.

Both started out enthusiastically, shouldering their fifty pound crosses. The first day they struggled, sweating. The second and third days were torture; their water supply was getting low, the desert hotter and their crosses heavier. The desert stretched out endlessly, its horizon blurry, but they plodded on.

Late on the third day, while they rested, one decided to shorten his cross. It was still his cross, just substantially shorter. The other decided to thin his out, and he cut it lengthwise. It was still his cross but much thinner. Both were more manageable, and the next two or three days went much easier. Both of the men were almost out of water. Finally they came to water, but it was a rather wide canal that stretched for miles. They had been warned that this canal was filled with flesh-eating fish. They looked at their crosses, they could use them as bridges. The first laid his across the canal, but it was too short. He died in the desert. The other's was long enough, but when he put his weight on it, it broke and he fell into the water. The holy man who tells this story asks his listeners: "and your cross, are you changing it, shortening it, thinning it, making your life easier? What will happen when you need your cross to bridge the gulf?" This week is for answering the hard questions

THAT EXTRA EFFORT

Holy Week and the final week of Lent is upon us. It is not too late to make an extra effort during these days to prepare for the Passion and death of Jesus Christ, so as to celebrate His Resurrection on Easter Day. On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday we have our usual four daily Masses and you will find our list of services for Holy Week at the exit doors of the Church and on the notice-boards. You may have already received a copy delivered to your home.

Do invite other members of your family to take part in the ceremonies of Holy Week. Our Liturgy Group make every effort to help us all to capture the spirit of the week ahead. I wish to thank them for their work.

Fr John

Fr Peter Coffey

As you know Fr Peter has been struggling with a hip problem for some years. He never lost his sense of humour. I am pleased to tell our Parishioners that he is over his operation and in good care as he makes a full recovery. We wish him well—please keep him in your prayers.

Amazing Grace

- 1 Amazing grace how sweet the sound, That saved a wretch like me! I once was lost but now am found: Was blind but now I see.
- 2 Twas grace that taught my heart to fear. And grace my fears relieved. How precious did that grace appear: The hour I first believed
- 3 Thro' many dangers, toils and snares I have already come, 'Tis grace hath brought me safe thus far and grace will lead me home.

Receive O Father in Thy Love

- 1 Receive O Father in thy love, These humble gifts of bread and wine: That with ourselves we offer thee, Returning gifts already thine.
- 2 Behold this host and chalice, Lord, To thee on high the gifts we raise: Through them may we our honour pay, Our adoration and our praise.

The Holy Places

As is our custom here in St Agnes, we will hold a special collection at Mass (7:00pm) on Holy Thursday evening. The upkeep of the places and buildings associated with the life and death of Jesus are difficult to maintain. Especially since there are so few Christians living there to support their upkeep. I know you will give with your usual generosity.

Starting Point

This year we intend to have the Pascal Fire at the entrance to the Parish Centre, so we ask our Parishioners attending the 9pm Easter Vigil to gather in the area in front of the Parish Centre where the Pascal or Easter Candle will be lit and follow the procession to enter the Church by the front door.

MESSAGE FOR EUCHARISTIC MINISTERS

All Eucharistic Ministers or Ministers of Holy Communion which we understand is now the proper title are invited to renew their commitment to their ministry in the Church and to the sick at the 7:00pm Mass of the Last Supper on Holy Thursday. We hope you can be there if possible.

Have you got your Stone?

I have my stone (more are available at the top of the Church). You are asked to bring your stone to the Church on Easter Day and place it in the Easter Garden. The idea is to express our letting go of our burdens and sins and handing them over to the Risen Lord
