St. John Chrysostom

From Boom to Bust

I am sure you are tired of hearing discussions on the sorry mess we are in. May I add my pennysworth to the mountains of words spoken and written.

We all know the causes-greed and corruption. Many ordinary folk joined in the search for a larger slice of the cake. Politicians of all shades and parties were calling for more and more expenditure as if the good days would never end. But they have. We are now in a crisis situation as we face a tough budget in ten days time. The IMF and the European Central Bank are in town and we fear the harsh medicine they may prescribe for a bailout of our banks and our ailing economy.

At the end of August, THE TABLET, The International Catholic Weekly, had a Leading Article after the emergency Budget was introduced in the U.K. The Institute of Fiscal Studies in England is quoted, 'The-Institute calculates that due to benefit cuts, and tax rises announced in the Budget, low income families with children are set to lose most as a percentage of nett income.' Here in Ireland the effect of cuts in the forthcoming Budget will effect those who most depend on benefits, and state support.

David Quinn writing in the TABLET last weekend asks 'What of the Catholic Church in all this? In the main, it is keeping its head down.
Archbishop Diarmuid Martin has spoken about the need to protect the most vulnerable in society. But the sex scandals have damaged the bishops so badly they cannot speak with any real moral authority about the crisis. In a way, this is a double tragedy for Ireland because the country badly needs credible moral leadership and it does not know where to find it.'

Those who run our good 'Catholic' Schools need to ask how such schools produced so many greedy Bankers, politicians and developers who have got us into this mess. Where has Catholic Social Teaching impinged on those leaders in Irish Society?

We are a resilient people, we will recover, but we all know there are difficult days and years ahead. Let us work together to create a better although leaner Ireland.

Fr. John.

Mass for the Dead

This year the Annual Mass for those who died in the Parish during the year will take place on Tuesday November 30th @ 7pm. All the names will be called out month by month. A family member will be invited to bring a lighted candle to the altar. If no representative can attend then you are asked to notify the Office [4555 368] and a member of the Liturgy Group will carry up the candle in your place. An invitation to the

The Pope John Paul II Awards.

Catholic Youth Care, in association with the Dublin Archdiocesan office of Evangelisation is delighted to announce a new pastoral programme for young people in the diocese as part of the Year of Evangelisation. The Pope John Paul II Awards will be run by CYC in Dublin.
CYC will be supporting parishes, schools and young people in this new Award.
This is an exciting new project that has the ability to show young people how to actively live out their faith. We warmly welcome young people between the ages of 16 and 18 years in schools and parishes throughout the Diocese.
For more information visit

Apostolic Visitation.

As you know the Apostolic Visitation by Cardinal Sean O'Malley has begun and the Visitor has had initial meetings with survivors and with a range of priests and lay people working in the area of child safeguarding, about 60 people in all. Because of the Consistory, the Cardinal had to limit his first visit to a few days. He will return to Dublin in the New Year.

Cardinal O'Malley is willing—in so far as possible—to meet with priests working in the diocese who wish to do so and also with any of your parishioners. Those wishing to meet him should write to him at the address of the Apostolic Nunciature[183, Navan Rd., Dublin 7.]with the letter marked confidential. He would also be pleased to receive written communications. I would ask you to draw the attention of parishioners to these possibilities.

With renewed thanks and with prayerful wishes as the New Liturgical Year begins.
Archbishop Diarmuid Martin, Archbishop of Dublin.
