Spread the Good News

The two disciples on the road from Jerusalem to Emmaus were feeling the pain of loss. They had lost a person. The most wonderful person they had pinned all their hopes on. They were in mourning. What they were mourning was a lost leader!

As you know they rediscovered him at the table. They rediscovered him, recognized him in the breaking of bread, or what we call the Eucharist or The Mass. So they hurried back to Jerusalem to tell the others. Their leader wasn't lost at all, he was risen. When we think of this particular story, the emphasis goes nearly always on the glumness and gloom of the journey from Jerusalem to Emmaus. But what about the return journey, the journey back from Emmaus to Jerusalem? Surely the most exciting, the most exhilarating road these two men had ever travelled. This time they were bursting with the news of the Lord's Resurrection. This was the happiest journey of their lives because the Risen Lord was with them all the way.

He was there for them. He's there for us. He's there as a person – in his word and in the breaking of bread. That is what the Mass is: word of God – Eucharist. And we need that contact with him in the Mass to keep us going to give us hope and strength on our journey through life. Otherwise we'll drift away from him and from the believing community and become more secular. Many people stay away from the Eucharist or get careless about it, coming only the odd time. We all need him – as our model, as our teacher, as our Saviour, as our friend. And on top of that, he needs us – as he needed our two friends from Emmaus to bring others the good news. He needs everyone of us. And each one of us has something to give. Your witness is a help to me. The witness of each one of us is a help to the others.

It is the duty therefore of every Christian to evangelise – to go and tell the world the Good News. One encounter with the risen Lord is all it takes.

Sr Margaret.

Questions people ask

Q. In these difficult economic times, doesn't it send out the wrong message to be spending so much money on the Eucharistic Congress?

A. The Congress is a great opportunity to proclaim the inner holiness of the Church and the extraordinary gift of the Eucharist. If it costs a bit of money, so what! Some Third World countries, much poorer than Ireland, were proud to host the Congress. Many of the finest churches in Ireland were built by the pennies of people who had little but wanted to make a public statement of their reverence for God. I don't know the estimated cost but I suspect that if everybody who has ever availed of the services of the Church were to contribute one euro, it should cover all expenses

Words of Fire - Understanding the Prophets with Fr. Dermot Mansfield, S.J.

The prophets of the Old Testament are key to our understanding of the Gospels and to the living of our Christian faith. The prophets, through their 'words of fire' and sometimes through the drama of their own lives as well, spoke boldly and passionately to the people of their day about the opportunities and challenges facing them on their journey of life.

In a series of talks starting soon, Fr. Dermot Mansfield, S.J., will outline the lives and teachings of the prophets, situating them in their historical context, and showing how they can enrich our own faith lives today.
